

Reflections of Deception

by Alison Reid

She's the good twin.

He's the man she was never meant to deceive.

Penelope Davidson has always done everything right—built a brilliant career, honoured her values, and refused to settle for anything less than respect. As one of Chicago's top cybersecurity programmers, landing a contract with Bennett Industries should be the opportunity of a lifetime.

But her biggest threat isn't a cyberattack.

It's her own sister.

Penny Davidson has spent years living in Penelope's shadow—reckless, manipulative, and hiding secrets no one sees coming. And when she sets her sights on something she wants... she takes it.

Even if it destroys her sister in the process.

Lucas Bennett is a powerful billionaire CEO with a past shaped by betrayal. The last thing he needs is another complication—especially not the quiet, brilliant woman now working inside his company.

But from the moment he meets Penelope, something doesn't add up.

Because the woman he can't stop thinking about... isn't the woman she appears to be.

As attraction ignites and secrets begin to unravel, Penelope finds herself trapped in a web of lies she never created—but may have to pay for.

Because in a world of deception...

Trust is the most dangerous risk of all.

Tropes:

-  Billionaire Hero
-  Twin Mistaken Identity
-  Hidden Truths
-  Protective Hero
-  He Falls First
-  Tech Heroine
-  Betrayal & Redemption

Reader Guide:

-  Heat: ★★★★★ (Moderately Steamy) Several open-door scenes with moderate detail
-  Angst: ★★★★★ (Moderate) Meaningful emotional conflict with a balanced tone
-  Emotion: ★★★★★ (Deep) Powerful emotional journey with heartfelt moments & significant character development
-  Dual POV
-  Open-Door Romance
-  No Cheating
-  Guaranteed HEA